Learning from claims to improve safety for people with learning disabilities

Join us to:

- Share insights of clinical themes observed in learning disability claims over the past ten years.
- Inform patient-centred care by sharing the learning insights from families affected by the physical and psychological abuse suffered at Winterbourne view.
- Gain an improved understanding about the issues that arise when individuals with learning disabilities access health care to help inform solutions.
- Contribute to expert debate on key challenges and how to overcome these by introducing innovative care pathways and training.
- Raise awareness of how reasonable adjustments and small quality improvements can bring about significant improvements in safety.
- Opportunity to shape future webinars around issues that matter and solutions that count.
