The following information was requested on 30th March 2021:

I am doing some research regarding the payments the NHS Resolution has paid for ATE Insurance that is taken out by the claimants over the last six years.

Please can you provide:

- 1. The names of the insurers where ATE Insurance policies has been paid for by NHS Resolution in the settlement of a claim?*
- 2. Please can you include the number of ATE Insurance premiums paid to each insurer by year and total amount paid for the year?*

Our Response

For details of the claims data that we publish please see the following links:

Annual report statistics: - <https://resolution.nhs.uk/resources/annual-report-statistics/>

Factsheet 5: - Factsheet 5 - trust and authority claims data 2019/20 - NHS Resolution

Although NHS Resolution may hold some information relating to claims such as these, due to the way claims are recorded on our claims database, we will not be able to identify such specific cases. It might be helpful to explain that when claims are notified to NHS Resolution they are categorised against pre-defined cause, injury and speciality codes, unfortunately ATE Insurance policies is not one of these. Therefore, while there may be information held in our records, we are not readily able to identify the relevant files by searching the database. To do so would involve a review of all individual cases to identify which ones relate to claims involving ATE Insurance policies. NHS Resolution receives thousands of claims each year.

The only way to find out would be to look over settled cases, and establish what costs and disbursements had been paid and if so on what basis, and whether specific provision was made for ATE policies.

Therefore, we estimate that the cost of complying with the request in its entirety would exceed the 'appropriate limit'. Section 12(1) of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 is a provision which allows a public authority to refuse to comply with a request for information where the cost of compliance is estimated to exceed a set limit (known as the 'appropriate limit'). The 'appropriate limit' for NHS Resolution is £450. This equates to 18 hours of work at the rate of £25 per hour set out in the 'Fees Regulations'.

We estimate that it would take on average 10 minutes to locate, retrieve and extract the requested information from an individual file. It may therefore be the case that we would be able to examine only 108 files within 18 hours.

In addition, given the complexity of clinical negligence claims and their litigation, it is possible for a single electronic or paper-based file to contain hundreds of documents in a variety of formats.

Please also note even if we were able to carry out a review of 108 random files we may not be able to provide you with the level of detail you require owing to Data Protection grounds. We would need to suppress low numbers or any information that could possibly lead to the identification of claimants, patients or individuals where disclosure would breach the General Data Protection Regulation.

Further to our obligations to provide advice and assistance, you may find it helpful to review the work of the Getting It Right First Time team with whom NHS Resolution has been working with to undertake in-depth analysis of our claims data. They have produced a number of reports from analysing our claims data which has been shared following approval of the confidentiality advisory group to the use of confidential patient information for this purpose.

If you would like to know how data is categorised in our Claims database please see the following link: Glossary
